

Journal of Medical Ethics

Contents

Editorial
Conscience, virtue, integrity and medical ethics			171
Paternalism and partial autonomy	Onora O'Neill		173
Iconoclastic ethics	Sir Douglas Black		179
Medical ethics: an excuse for inefficiency?	Gavin Mooney		183
Compulsory health and safety in a free society	B J Boughton		186
Commentary	R S Downie		189
Controversy
Health promotion – caring concern or slick salesmanship?			191
	Gill Williams
Health promotion – caring concern	Andrew Tannahill		196
Contributors to this issue			198
Approaches to medical ethics
A workshop on medical ethics at the College of Medicine, Lagos University	A A Olukeya		199
News and notes			200
Case conference
Kicking against the pricks: two patients wish to end essential insulin treatment	Roger Higgs, Victor Parsons, David Marsden, Raanan Gillon, Ian Kennedy		201
Valediction to Lord Amulree	209	Update	219
	G R Dunstan
		Lectures and symposia	221
Book reviews	213	Index	223
Correspondence	216	Medical groups	228